

John Schneider, MD

Session: Difficult Pain Cases: An Opioid Discussion

Dr. Schneider has a Master's degree in Psychology from the University of Nebraska. He earned his medical degree from the University of Nebraska Medical Center and went on to specialize in Neurology at the Department of Neurology, University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics. Dr. Schneider was mentored by world renowned Neurologist and Pain Medicine specialist, Dr. Miroslav "Misha" Backonja. Dr. Schneider finished his sub-specialty fellowship training in Pain Medicine at the Department of Anesthesia and Peri-operative Medicine, Georgia Health Sciences University.

Dr. Schneider is ABMS Board Certified in Neurology and Pain Medicine. His unique training background provides him with the ability to integrate the best approaches of each sub-specialty in order to ascertain which approach is most appropriate for each individual patient.

Dr. Schneider is a founding director and current president of the Tennessee Pain Society, as well as, the treasurer of the Tennessee Society of Interventional Pain Physicians. He is active in healthcare politics and serves as a legal consultant in the fields of Neurology and Pain Medicine. Dr. Schneider serves on a pain advisory committee for Amerigroup and the Tennessee Department of Health DUR (drug utilization committee). In his spare time Dr. Schneider enjoys spending time with his wife and three sons. He enjoys zymurgy, boating, archery, camping and golfing.